Bread rolls

Using nature's own materials is a tradition that lives on, perhaps stronger than ever.

Beech is a type of wood that, in addition to being beautiful, is also considered very suitable for use as tools for food preparation.

As a guarantor for the environment, the products are FSC-licensed.

This means that the raw material used in the Jonas products is under the control of "Woodmark-The Soil Association". This means, among other things, that by using the Jonas products we have also taken a stand for a safe regrowth of forest resources against deforestation.
